

MEN'S TEAM PROFILE GREAT BRITAIN

Great Britain has contested every World Team Cup men's event since 1986, but had to wait until 2015 before gaining its first men's World Group title, when Alfie Hewett and Gordon Reid won both singles rubbers in the final against France. In Reid and Hewett Great Britain have the men's singles gold and silver medallists and the men's doubles silver medallists from the Rio Paralympics, as well as three-time Wimbledon doubles champions and former UNIQLO Wheelchair Doubles Masters champions. Hewett and Reid are former World Team Cup junior champions and they also won their second US Open men's doubles title last September, when Hewett also won the men's singles title.
